In the interest of user safety, Makita (Australia) Pty Ltd is undertaking a recall of Makita Chainsaws with the model numbers DCS6401, DCS7301, DCS7900 and DCS7901 for a non-compliant chain brake function.

Defect: The chain brake operation does not comply with ISO 13772.

Hazard: Users may be injured by contact with the rotating chain if the chain brake does not activate when kickback is experienced.

What to do: Makita recommends customers immediately stop using the chainsaw, drain any fuel/oil and take the tool to your nearest Makita service centre for a no charge repair of the chain brake mechanism.
